young people and it is wonderful to see them fulfill their historical role.

And some Suggestions for these amazing young people this summer:

READ books.

STAY AWAY from too much video and TV. It can rot the brain and make you lethargic!

Visit the staff at church to say hello.

VISIT other Episcopal churches when travelling.

WRITE a journal of your summer.

Pentecost

June, 2017

Finally! Summer is here. I have just done the June schedule and I am REALLY grateful to all of our families for answering the "away days" email. I had a LOT of them for June as expected but the main thing is we had a lot of people responding and that makes everything work better on Sundays. You are all so loyal and faithful and it is our pleasure to try to make everything work for you, accommodating your summer travels and events. At the same time we are supporting the needs of our church for servers, even during the summer. THANK YOU and well done everyone!

And so let summer begin!! Try to be faithful in your service and support your church. The church continues its work and ministry year round and our acolytes continue their beautiful work at the altar. This is when people move into the area and check out churches and it says a lot about Good Shepherd when they see our young people at the altar quietly and skillfully going about their ministry. You will have to go a long way to find a church which places so much trust in its young people to support the priest at the altar. This is a FAMILY parish with a lot of amazing

VOLUNTEER to help with VBS and/or Good Shepherd School camps. They need your support and you will add energy to the camps.

MEDITATE for a few minutes every day. It promotes wellbeing.

WALK with friends in a group on the greenbelt.

SWIM.

RIDE your bike on the green belts with friends.

Go to the LIBRARY and see what's in there. Some super programs there this summer.

LUNCH with parents at work. You know POWER LUNCH!

Your adult team wishes all of you a wonderful summer and you know that we will be excited and delighted when we see you at church.

Keep well, keep the faith, make GOOD choices, expand your horizons. Your adult team wishes you all of this as we cheer you on and walk the journey WITH you. Luv ya troops. Mr.B.
